Dear Mr. Anderson:

In 1977 I started using AZOMITE in my practice which was restricted to nutrition and acupuncture in the state of California. Several beneficial effects were evident in a very short period of time. First and foremost all of the animals put on AZOMITE trace mineral supplement showed a general increase in their state of health, i.e. fewer illnesses, mellowing of attitude, decrease in skin conditions, increased endurance and an overall normalization of condition. Second and equally important was the more efficient utilization of feed, i.e. reduced volume intake while maintaining normal weight or in the case of cattle, sheep and hogs a better feed conversion ratio (more gain with less feed).

I have also used AZOMITE on a small scale in agricultural activities as a soil conditioner with excellent results. I had many African violets which produced massive leaves but never bloomed. Within two weeks of treating the soil 90% of the plants were in bloom and are blooming 12 months

I had many African violets which produced massive leaves but never bloomed. Within two weeks of treating the soil 90% of the plants were in bloom and are blooming 12 months a year. In my vegetable garden the crop was unbelievable, carrots, cabbage, Swiss chard, celery, brussel sprouts, and lettuce all matured in 10 to 15% less time with the best flavor I have ever tasted. The shelf life was increased dramatically over produce produced without the AZOMITE.

THANK YOU, Sincerely

Robert H. Friedman, D.O.M.
